

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

After man has made his first trip to the moon, what can you say? Words seem to fail to express the magnitude of this occasion.

Since this is one of the major milestones in man's history it is great just to be alive during this historical moment.

Our family spent the latter part of last week on the lake and had to settle for listening about the trip on the radio, but we imagine that we will have ample opportunity to view the space walk on TV re-runs before the week is over.

We join all of the world in congratulating the three astronauts and everyone else involved in this scientific achievement.

This week we will try to offer some pros and cons on the final three proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on Aug. 5.

The seventh amendment on the ballot would provide for payment of assistance to surviving spouses and minor children of governmental officers, employees, and agents, including members of organized fire departments and certain organized police reserve units, who have hazardous duties and are killed in the performance of those duties.

Those for this amendment say that the people have already voiced approval of the principle involved—that the public should aid those dependent on public employees who perform hazardous duties for the public benefit. Also the amendment does not automatically provide assistance as the legislature must name the groups to receive the benefits.

Those opposed say that the amendment does not place a limitation on the amount of assistance which may be provided and the cost is therefore unknown. Also many of the employees covered are employed by cities and counties and they feel that this cost should be borne by local political subdivisions.

Amendment eight would authorize the Legislature to provide for additional loans to students at institutions of higher education under Texas Opportunity Plan.

Those favoring the amendment say that there is greater demand for student loans than is currently money available since it is still too early for the money to come back in from the first loans. They also point out the need for more Texas citizens to get a better education and cite the fact that for many, a state loan is their only opportunity.

Those opposed say that this loan program takes business away from banks and other loaning institutions. It also continues the practice of making loans to students going to church-supported schools. They also take the attitude that the young people can finance their own way by working.

The final amendment would provide for annual sessions of the legislature.

Those supporting this amendment contend that economic and efficient state government requires minimum time lag between the date budget estimates are actually prepared and the passage of an appropriation bill. The business of the state has grown to the point that the legislature needs to have closer supervision of its activities.

Those opposed say that annual sessions would just increase the cost of state government. They also maintain that the power of the governor to call special sessions eliminates the need for annual sessions. The increased frequency of regular sessions would make service in the legislature a full-time job and even more economically unattractive than it is at the present time.

Astronauts Walk On Moon; World Awaits Their Return

The people of Hamlin, like their counterparts the world over spent a tense weekend as they stayed by their television sets or their radios as man made his first walk on the moon.

Two Americans landed and walked on the moon Sunday, the first human beings on its alien soil. They planted their nation's flag and talked to their President on earth by radio-telephone.

Millions on their home planet 240,000 miles away watched on television as they saluted the flag, and scouted the lunar surface.

The first to step on the moon was Neil Armstrong, 38, of Wapakoneta, Ohio. He stepped into the dusty surface at 9:56 p.m. CDT. His first words were, "That's one small step for man, a giant leap for mankind."

Twenty minutes later, his companion, Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin, Jr., 39, of Montclair, N. J., stepped to the surface. His first words were, "Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful. A magnificent desolation."

They had landed on the moon nearly six hours before, at 3:18 p.m. CDT.

Both astronauts reported they were back in their spacecraft at 12:11 a.m. CST Monday. "The hatch is closed and locked," Armstrong reported.

The two moon explorers blasted off the moon at 12:55 p.m. and joined their command ship, Columbia, piloted by Astronaut Michael Collins and started their return trip back to earth. The three men are scheduled to return to earth today (Thursday) and the whole world is expected to breathe a little better when they are safely aboard their pickup ship.

A number of Hamlin businesses were closed Monday in observance of the occasion.

EVERYONE CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY — All the children attending Head Start were honored with a "birthday party" Tuesday morning in the primary cafeteria. The occasion was planned to give each child an opportunity to have a birthday party observance. Each child received a gift which was made possible through gifts of local merchants and individuals. Cake and ice cream were served. Here, the children are shown opening their gifts.

Annual Summer Band School Set To Start Aug. 4

Summer High School Band School will begin Monday, Aug. 4, at 8 a.m. with a marching session at the high school practice field, according to Band Director Tim Jones.

The band school will be held four hours each day during the week of Aug. 4 and Aug. 18. There will be no sessions during the week of Aug. 11, he said.

Brass and percussion sections will rehearse at 9 every day and reeds and woodwinds will rehearse at 10. Each morning session will conclude at 12 noon after the daily full band rehearsals.

Tryouts will take place on designated afternoons for each section.

The new uniforms are all in, and will be passed out during band school. All students are urged to make plans to attend the summer sessions, as marching contest comes three weeks earlier this year, and the rehearsal before school starts helps offset this early contest date.

Pool to End Season

The Hamlin Foundation Swimming Pool will close for the season Saturday afternoon, Aug. 2.

Members are requested to use the remainder of their season tickets because they will not be valid next year.

City Seeks Bids On New Airport

The Hamlin City Council has voted to accept bids on the construction of an airport for the city to be located on land southwest of town recently purchased by the City.

The work to be bid on will include the base work and hard surface for the runway and ramp. The city owns 45.32 acres of land and will construct a 4,000 foot runway with 3,200 feet hard surfaced. Bids will be received until Monday, Aug. 18, and plans and specifications are on file with the City Secretary or Freese, Nichols and Dress, Consulting Engineers.

The bids are to be addressed to Mayor Hollis W. Madden and will be opened publicly immediately following the closing time and read aloud.

Advertising for bids climaxes a long effort on the part of the city and the aviation committee of the Hamlin

Board of Community Development.

At the present time five airplanes are operating out of the local airport north of town including those belonging to Hamlin Flying Service.

The present airport is located on a city street with the land adjoining it unavailable for expansion.

The city has received a matching fund grant from the State of Texas and has already received credit for the state's share of the purchase price of the land.

A number of individuals and organizations have expressed a willingness to help on the project.

Local FFA Members Win Four State Awards At Convention

Nine members of the Hamlin FFA Chapter attended the 41st annual convention of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America last week in Fort Worth. Members attending were Bob Clifton, state vice-president; Spencer Ford, Bill Hodnett, and Davis Weaver, Lone Star Farmer Degree recipients; and Guy Clifton, Gil Lain, Charlie Sellers, Rodney Rackley, and Steve Teichelman, members. Others from Hamlin attending were Milburn Wink, chapter advisor, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Clifton.

The Hamlin Chapter made a good showing at the convention by winning three awards on the state level. Gil Lain was named winner of a $500.00 scholarship awarded by the Santa Fe Railroad. Selection was based on Gil's scholarship leadership, and supervised farming record while in the FFA. Gil was also recognized as the state winner of the Livestock Farming Proficiency Award from the National FFA Foundation. This award was based on his accomplishments with the livestock part of his supervised farming program. He will now represent Texas in the Southern FFA Region competition.

Spencer Ford was named state winner of the Agricultural Mechanics Proficiency Award from the National FFA Foundation. This award was based on Spencer's accomplishments in shop work and building and improving facilities at his home. He will also represent Texas in competition on the regional level.

Bill Hodnett was recognized as the Lone Star Farmer from Area II. Bill also served as an usher at the convention.

T. C. Blankinship and Milburn Wink were given Distinguished Service Awards for their work with state vice-president Bob Clifton during the past year.

Bob had the privilege of conferring the Honorary Lone Star Farmer Degree upon his father and to present his mother, Mrs. B. C. Garrison of Odessa, with the Distinguished Service Award.

Neinda Philosopher Solves the Problem of the Cities, the Generation Gap, and So Forth

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route two tackles a couple of big problems this week, but we won't say with what results.

I had been reading about it in newspapers turning up out here on this Johnson grass farm but hadn't paid much attention to the great problem the big cities are having these days until I had to go into Abilene the other day.

As I understand it, the cities are in deep trouble, they're over-crowded, the streets are constantly wearing out and the plumbing is breaking down and they don't have enough money to fix them, traffic is so bad you can walk faster than you can drive at certain times of the day, they don't have enough policemen, the schools are overflowing, tempers are short, etc.

I don't know that Abilene has all these problems, but after fighting traffic in it a while — well I wasn't actually fighting it myself, I wasn't driving, I was sitting on the back seat throwing up my arms to ward off what I thought were sure collisions every two or three minutes — as I say, after fighting this traffic for a while I got to thinking.

The trouble with cities is they've been built in the wrong place.

Why pick out a crowded place like that to build a city?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawrence and Tracy left Tuesday for Spearfish, S. D. where they will make their home and Mr. Lawrence will attend Black-hill State College in the fall. Mrs. Lawrence lived here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gray, while her husband was overseas. She was employed at Heidenheimer's.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Bingham, Mrs. L. R. Faulkenberry, all of Hamlin, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Roe of Winslow, Ariz., went to Dallas Sunday to visit with Artis Bingham, brother of Mr. Bingham, Mrs. Faulkenberry and Mrs. Roe, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident July 3. Mr. Bingham is now out of intensive care and improving.

Contract Documents, including plans and specifications, are on file and may be examined without charge in the office of the City Secretary at Hamlin, Texas, and in the offices of Freese, Nichols and Endress, Consulting Engineers, 508 Throckmorton Street, Fort Worth, Texas.

Contract Documents, including plans and specifications, may be obtained from the Consulting Engineers upon a deposit of $10.00, which deposit will be refunded as provided in the Instructions to Bidders.

There shall be paid on this project not less than the generally prevailing wages which have been determined by the Owner and which are contained in the schedule that is made a part of the Contract Documents.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive formalities, and, in case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating proposal prices, to adopt such interpretation as may be most advantageous to the Owner. They ought to be built out in the country where there's plenty of room and not nearly as much noise.

Now that I have disposed of that problem and still have some room left on this piece of tablet paper, there's another problem I'd like to discuss.

For the last couple of years I've been listening to grown men on television agonizing over their inability, as they put it, "to understand the young."

They say all the college ruckuses stem from the adults' failure to understand youth, and they write their hands and say they're going to try harder. They even let their sideburns grow longer to prove they're trying to get with it.

Thunderation. The way I see it, the young ought to be trying to understand us. It looks to me like the wrong hands are being wrung.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAHY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Cancer is often spoken of as a "silent disease" because of the way it develops in many cases without producing any noticeable symptoms. And this silence can be deadly.

Pain, which is most often thought of as accompanying diseases, generally isn't present with cancer until it is far advanced and has passed the "silent" stage, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

Usually cancer can be treated satisfactorily if detected in the early stages. The difficulty in cancer control lies in early detection of the disease. This is the reason regular — at least yearly — physical examinations are so important.

Only a physician can tell if cancer is present. Any suspicious symptoms should be examined by the family physician. But often, by the time symptoms of cancer show up, it is too late for cure. Treatment of advanced cancer is difficult.

All physician's offices should be cancer detection centers. The family doctor is the front line against cancer. And for a physical checkup, whether cancer is suspected or not, the personal physician is the logical person to see. If cancer is suspected, the family doctor may refer his patient to a specialist, if necessary.

Cancer of the uterus, or womb is the third most deadly form of cancer in women.

Yet, it can be detected in the very early stages by a simple test — the Pap smear — which can be done painlessly and quickly in a doctor's office. Early detection can lead to a 100 per cent cure. Last year at Dallas and San Antonio cervical cancer detection projects, supported by the State Health Department, 13,914 tests from around the state were screened, with 38 reported as positive.

The thorough physical examination should include inspection of the skin surface followed by examination of various organs such as the heart, lungs, stomach, intestines, rectum, reproductive organs and breasts.

X-rays of the chest and other parts of the body if indicated and a proctoscopic examination (visual inspection of the lining of the rectum and lower bowel with a lighted tube) should also be performed.

A proctoscopic examination is important since cancer of the colon and rectum can be discovered in this way.

If a physician suspects cancer, a biopsy may be performed and a sample of the suspect tissue sent for microscopic examination by a pathologist. This type of examination is the only way to differentiate the presence of a cancer or a benign tumor.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS BY VERN SANFORD

If you're not a bass fisherman you soon will be after reading Grits Gresham's excellent book on that subject. He will whet your appetite to try it, then tell you how to do it.

Grits is an outdoor writer and photographer of national prominence. He's a Louisianan who has fished the country over. You've seen his stories and pictures in numerous sports magazines and many, many times in Outdoor Life. Grits is not only an ace photographer but he's also tops as an angler.

So if you want a short-course in how to do it and what to do it with, from one who really knows, get a copy of the "Complete Book of Bass Fishing."

Truly a "complete book"—it deals with not only the fabulous black bass but also the ever popular whites and the Kentucky spotted bass. Complete it is . . . with pix of the numerous bass catching lures and how-to-work-them instructions.

It's more than 250 pages tell how to "read the water," locate these elusive critters and take them from the lakes, rivers, ponds and streams . . . day or night.

You'll be thinking like a fish when you finish Grits Gresham's most interesting and informative book on bass fishing.

Saw Grits at the National Sports Show in Houston and he happily reported that the bookstores are already sold out. But he hastened to add that he has copies at his home. So, if you're interested—and man you should be—if you don't already have a copy—write Grits Gresham at 942 Williams Avenue, Natchitoches, La. 71457. Include a check for $5.95 and if he's not out fishing somewhere, or taking some of those superb photos, you'll get a copy of his masterpiece by return mail.

And, you'll thank us for suggesting it, for this informative compilation of valuable tips and illustrations is something you'll read and reread time and time again.

to the prompt diagnosis of cancer. For only if a person presents himself to his physician can the presence or absence of cancer be determined. With regular physical check-ups, the "silent" disease can often be detected.

Local Farmers Seek Extension, Improvement of Present Farm Programs On Washington 'Fly-In'

Four Hamlin farmers were among 125 farm and rural leaders who told members of the U. S. House and Senate in Washington, D.C., Tuesday that there is only one farm policy choice that is acceptable and safe for Rural America and that is to continue and improve the existing farm price and income programs.

Making the trip to Washington were Raymond Scifres, John Scarborough, Richard Young and H. W. Madden.

The farm spokesmen, who came from Texas, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Illinois, made the rounds of all the 535 offices of House and Senate members to discuss several "crossroads decisions" now before Congress.

The farmers were members of a Farmers Union "Legislative Fly-In" effort which urged support of the farm bill sponsored by Rep. W. R. Poage, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, to extend permanently the farm stabilization and food stamp programs.

The farmer lobbyists supported the Poage bill as contrasted to the Dirksen-McChel bill which would phase out farm programs over a five-year period and rely instead on a massive long-range land retirement program.

The Fly-In contingent told members of Congress that except for one well-known exception, there would be virtual unity in farm ranks on support of the Poage bill with some improving amendments. They cited an agreement reached earlier by 17 farm, commodity and cooperative groups to support a list of major farm program objectives in this session.

The Farmers Union spokesmen said that a cropland retirement plan, based on retirement of whole farms, would not only retire farm acres, but farm families and communities as well, sending new waves of displaced rural people into major cities already unable to cope with their problems.

The farm representatives urged the following actions in this Congress:

A rollback of the latest interest rate increase as a prerequisite to extension of the federal income tax surtax.

A ban on tax-loss farming by outsiders.

Retention of the 7% federal investment tax credit on purchases up to $15,000 a year.

An increase in dairy supports to 90% of parity or $4.70 per hundred pounds of milk.

Improvement of the G. I. Bill farm training provisions and an increase in the monthly education assistance rates.

Broadening of the federal market order authority and adoption of measures to enhance farm bargaining power.

Establishment of a consumer safety reserve of cotton, soybeans, feed grains and wheat.

Rapid expansion and improvement of the federal crop insurance program.

There are not words to express the feelings I had last night as I looked at the silver of the moon that I could see, knowing that we had two men from the earth on the far away planet. It surely makes a person realize that there is a

Being much greater than man. We should never forget to be thankful for very blessing. I hope by the time most people are reading this that the mission is successfully completed.

If there is anything that will start an argument among fishermen it is the color of the lure a bass will strike when it's hungry.

Of course, there still is the old school of anglers who believe that a bass strikes only when it is mad. Perhaps this is true sometimes. But a bass has to eat and he's not mad as often as he's hungry.

Same is true of other fish, too.

For instance, there is the lovely rainbow trout. About the only time we see them in Texas is when trout ponds are provided at some of the sport shows. Then the fishermen (usually the youngsters) get 10 minutes time to try to hook them for the price of a half-buck. Usually these trout are brought in from Arkansas or Missouri.

Now comes a new philosophy. Paul McAdams, who spends his winters in Austin, enjoys the coolness and summertime fishing of Livingston, Montana. He comes to Texas in Mid-November then returns to Livingston about mid-April. There he operates a huge trout hatchery and several "catchout" ponds. He stocks these ponds heavily with catchable-size trout, then charges anglers for the fish they land.

When Paul first started he had a problem. He had stocked the ponds well with trout, but the visiting fishermen couldn't tempt them. Anglers would toss flies and spinners into the cool clear waters, then watch the fish disdain them without striking. Finally Paul solved the problem. It was their feeding habits!

His fish had grown fat eating especially prepared food pellets. They knew nothing of natural foods. So, for a solution McAdams turned to his neighbor and friend Dan Bailey, a noted fly tier of the northwest. Bailey made a few samples of lures in pellet form. These they tossed at the trout. And—bang it worked!

Now the fishermen have no trouble catching all the trout they want. So, these trout probably will never have the opportunity to strike a natural bait.

McAdams' trout catchout ponds have proven to be a real success for summer tourist business. Many of the 5-million plus tourists through Montana and Wyoming each year have never caught a rainbow. But they can now! And it is quite a thrill for the children.

Cost? It's 10 cents per inch for the trout they catch.

A nearby restaurant will cook the trout, or the tourists can take them to their own campgrounds for fresh-caught trout cooked in the open. Ummmm. Naturally, most of the trout are small... usually about 10 inches long. However, occasionally there is a big one, and that really causes consternation among the anglers.

McAdams calls his place the Jumping Rainbow Ranch, and that is just what it is.

He has proven one point and it is that fish do strike when they are hungry. He also has established that commercial amateur fishing can be profitable for landowners.

Of course there is fishing for free in the Yellowstone and other rivers of the area. They, also, are stocked each season with catchable size trout. So, the visitor can take his choice of fishing one of the streams, where he might catch a fish, or go to one of the commercial ponds, where the catch is certain.

ELECTRICITY: WANTED HERE

Every year more and more people trade the bustle and noise of the city for the quiet contemplative air of the country. Some move permanently. Others plan weekend cottages "away from it all"... except electricity. These people take the rural electric cooperative for granted. They expect and receive dependable low cost electricity and first class service. Every year the Midwest Electric Cooperative makes long range studies to determine its power requirements so it will be ready with an abundant supply of low cost power when it is needed. So come on out to the country. The Midwest Electric Cooperative has power to spare. Helping Texas Grow.

To say that our American Legion Picnic was a grand success is not an exaggeration in the least, for it was great, with an attendance of from 4000 to 5000 the first day, and from 6000 to 8000 the second day, with plenty of the very nicest barbecue, five tons of ice used for drinking water alone, plenty of good clean amusement for all, why should it not have been a success.

The rain of last Friday morning failed to "dampen" the spirit of the forty guests, who arrived between showers, to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Canfield at the Nazarene College, and to celebrate the glorious Fourth of July.

The different families taking part in this celebration were: J. T. and J. R. Bull, Mrs. Emma Bates, Ernest Burns, A. T. Lowe, Jones Palmer and Ross Canfield.

A blanket increase of 25 per cent in taxable valuation for all real property in the Hamlin city limits, was announced this week by the Equalization Board.

The increase in valuation came following an intensive study of Hamlin's finances and needed improvements in the city, Holly Toler, mayor, said.

Teams that had filed entries prior to Thursday are: Longhorn Creamery, Abilene; Volts, Abilene; Roscoe; McCaulley; Celotex; and the Lion Cubs from Hamlin.

COMMUNICATION

Telephone lines spread across our nation, giving us immediate contact with loved ones. Vital business is rapidly contracted through this medium.

Our linkage to God is prayer. Through prayer we can express our love, our thanks, and seek God's help.

"Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray."

Attend church, join others in fellowship and prayer to God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

It starts all over again Monday (July 28). Legislators will be back at the capitol, finishing up the finance chores they left dangling in their regular session.

Gov. Preston Smith, who called the special session after he rejected lawmakers' no-tax, one-year budget and insisted on adoption of a balanced biennial appropriations bill, apparently will spell out his recommendations on opening day.

Smith has been conducting a series of talks with business and industry leaders, exploring tax ideas. Legislators are expected to have to come up with a revenue measure totalling $300 million or more.

Governor abandoned the idea of waiting until after the August 5 vote on an $80 million welfare spending limit and other proposed constitutional amendments. Advisors and legislative leaders told him lawmakers will need every one of the 30 days allotted for the special session to complete the big money job at hand.

Key legislative leaders have done some spadework on a $5.6 billion two-year budget for the fiscal period extending through August 31, 1971. No major difficulties are anticipated here, although some hitches could develop.

New court bills also are being drawn in preparation for special session effort to enact a measure to replace the courts measure vetoed by Smith last month as reaching his desk too late.

WATER FOR TEXAS — Another state has offered Texas an option to purchase its surplus waters, State Water Development Board Director Howard Boswell revealed recently.

Boswell spoke in answer to criticism of Constitutional Amendment 2 on the August 5 ballot to authorize $3.5 billion in bonds to finance a master water plan for the state.

Campaigns for and against the proposed amendment are heating up as election date nears. Proponents led by the Governor's Committee of 500 argue that its failure would be "catastrophic" for the state and that the bonds will prove to be money makers for Texas as well as permitting orderly development of water resources.

Opponents, sparked by State Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, wildlife conservationists and strict-economy groups, contend that cost of the contemplated program would be tremendous and that delay for a year or two of added study is justified.

Nine amendments will be voted on August 5. Major interest centers on water bonds and a proposal to raise the welfare spending ceiling. Annual sessions of the legislature and higher pay for lawmakers are among other amendments to be decided. A "Nine for Texas Committee" is leading a campaign for the entire package.

INSURANCE PROBE ON — Two tough critics of the insurance industry on occasion were named by the governor to his nine-member citizens committee which will investigate auto policy rate increases.

Smith named the panel after State Insurance Board staffers recommended an 11.4 per cent rate increase.

OVER A BARREL

HERC-6 FOCUS

Chairman will be former Gov. Price Daniel, who took on the insurance companies in 1961 when claims arising from Hurricane Carla damage were being rejected. Another member is former Secretary of State John Hill, a Houston attorney, who frequently handles cases against insurance companies. Other members include Highway Commission Chairman D. C. Greer of Austin; Harry Hubbard of the AFL-CIO staff (which has repeatedly challenged auto insurance rate increases); Odessa attorney W. O. Shafer (who defends insurance companies); Lubbock accountant Edwin E. Merriman; Austin editor Sam Wood; Dallas television newsman Eddie Baker and Dr. Alford R. Hazzard, an Austin physician.

OIL ALLOWABLE SLICED: — For the second consecutive month, Railroad Commission cut the statewide oil allowable, setting the August figure at 53.1 percent of potential. Top production would be 3,310,997 barrels a day. Allowable was lowered from 63.5 per cent of potential in June to 54.7 percent in July. Nine major producers requested the same allowable as July, three sought less and only two asked for more oil during August.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court affirmed a farm anti-picketing order which labor unions claimed blunted the strike of field hands in the Rio Grande Valley. Court also upheld the Ector County District Court's decision that it did not have jurisdiction in a libel case brought by Nathan Curry of Odessa against Dell Publishing Company because a story in FRONT PAGE DETECT-IVE said he was guilty of a murder after he had been found not guilty by a Palo Pinto County jury.

A former employee of Sears, Roebuck and Company had no good reason to wait 16 months before filing claims for on-job injuries, Supreme Court said.

Third Court of Civil Appeals overruled state cancellation of two Rio Grande Valley water permits (of 1918 and 1928).

Court of Criminal Appeals threw out the conviction of a San Antonio man who dressed as a woman in public because he was tried under an old Ku Klux Klan law prohibiting wearing of a mask in public.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — A Richmond State School employee who got tuberculosis as a result of a psychological exam of a tubercular patient is entitled to medical expenses from the school's appropriations, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

Potter County officials can keep land granted in 1904 for a courthouse and jail though they plan to build on other property and sell the old tract.

New amendment concerning drive-a-way in-transit license plates applies only to movement of new house trailers, trailers and semi-trailers.

ACCREDITATION LOSS — The State Commission on School Accreditation, under Texas Education Agency direction, has overruled appeals by six Texas school districts that have lost accreditation. The six districts' next appeal lies with the TEA.

The districts are: Center ISD, Shelby County, 2,201 students; Crosby ISD, Harris

County, 2,108; Desdemona ISD, Eastland County, 96 students; Liberty Hill ISD, Williamson County, 255 students; and Timpson ISD, Shelby County, 650 students.

PEANUT REFERENDUM SET — Agriculture Commissioner John C. White certified Southwestern Peanut Growers Association of Gorman to hold a statewide referendum under the new commodity check-off law.

Referendum will determine whether peanut growers will make self-assessments to promote education, commodity sales, research, and insect and disease control measures. Peanut Association was first to be certified under new legislation.

SHORT SNORTS — One of two 600-pound antique glass chandeliers, valued at $4,000 each, on loan to the governor from the University of Texas, crashed to the floor of the Governor's office.

Abdel-Hadi M. Mahrous, formerly of Cairo, Egypt, is the new fiscal management specialist for Texas Office of Economic Opportunity.

Governor Smith has called a Conference on Urban and Community Affairs for Sept. 7-9 in Austin to plan and structure cities for the problems and opportunities of the future.
